

Hughes Managed Services

Your Managed Services Partner Providing Solutions to Enable Your Digital Transformation

In today's public service landscape, government organizations are increasingly turning to managed service providers (MSP) for their IT services to maximize efficiency and profitability. A strong MSP can alleviate many of your IT staff's challenges regarding core infrastructure management, enable new 'as-a-service' consumption models, as well as support your enterprise in navigating emerging areas such as SD-WAN, security, and performance management. But not all MSPs are created equal, and agencies need integrated solutions that go well beyond the basics.

The Hughes advantage

More than just a provider, we are true partners who understand your mission and can help you achieve your strategic goals. Hughes Managed Services offers a portfolio of turn-key, fully-managed enterprise solutions so you can keep your eye on the bigger picture—the operations and success of your agency.

We understand that technology needs to be tailored to your needs. When Hughes begins a relationship with a customer, we view it as a strategic partnership. Our focus is to complement and augment the internal IT team, freeing them up to focus on strategic initiatives that will help drive the organization forward.

Simply put, we succeed by making sure your team succeeds.

We focus on your network, so you can focus on your mission

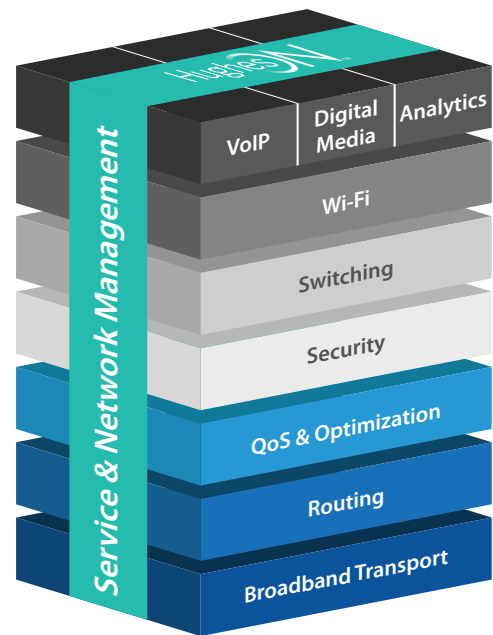

The growth in mission-critical applications and the continued transition to Cloud-based services and applications are driving a greater dependence on the network. Distributed enterprises face unique challenges when it comes to their networks. Chief among them is that each site can have vastly different broadband access types and infrastructures, which wreak havoc on overall network performance.

Our next-generation portfolio of Cloud-ready network solutions, including the leading Distributed SD-WAN solution, are not only designed to meet the unique needs of distributed enterprises, but can cost-effectively deliver expertise that many agencies struggle to find.

Managed services for your complete network

Hughes provides unmatched integrated solutions to fit your specific requirements. The result—a smarter, more agile, application-centric network—is designed and managed by a team that manages more network endpoints in North America than the next 3 managed services companies combined.

As an industry leader in the managed services market, Hughes combines the best of wireline, wireless, and satellite broadband technologies, state-of-the-art management systems, and a dedicated program management team.

HughesON is a suite of innovative, Cloud-ready network and digital media solutions designed for the unique needs of distributed enterprises in the public sector, including local, state, and federal agencies.

Better engagement with your constituents and employees

To help agencies meet the demands of today's digital world, Hughes offers tailored engagement solutions to support the critical delivery of public-facing services, including digital signage, self-service kiosks, online training and more. Your employees are your best advocates, and our internal engagement solutions can drive increased retention and spark the pride needed for employees to better serve constituents.
